#35104w – Color & Design

Join Carol for this fun, fused project! You will experiment with positive and negative circular shapes while playing with color and various design elements. The class project is a wallhanging measuring approximately 20" x 27". With Carol's guidance, you will create a unique piece that appears to evolve organically. There will be no measuring or matching of seams, but there will be lots of fun! Carol will offer suggestions for several ways to use these fused collages. She will also give you a free pattern for a mini journal cover that you can make at home from a smaller fabric collage. Carol will bring her die cutters and lots of circle dies for you to use.

Registration for this class includes show admission for Wednesday.
